

<https://www.deuka.de/en/current/2020-06-18-things-to-know-about-compound-feed-production/>

Video statements by Dr Hubert Lenz

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT THE PRODUCTION OF COMPOUND FEED

18.06.2020 – On the new website www.futterfakten.de, the German Pet Food Association (Deutscher Verband Tiernahrung e. V.) provides information. (DVT) informs farmers and end consumers about topics related to compound feed production and animal nutrition. Experts from all over the industry have their say in interviews. One of these experts is Dr Hubert Lenz from deuka Tiernahrung Cremer.

In three video interviews, Dr Hubert Lenz (Head of Recipe Design & Quality Management at deuka Tiernahrung Cremer) talks about the definition of compound feed, the composition of animal feeds and the import of the raw materials needed for production. You can find out more in the interviews and the corresponding articles.

- What is compound feed?
- Most of it is imported!
- What's in the trough?

What's in the feed trough: Dr. Lenz gives answers.

What is FutterFakten.de?

In the video contributions, feed experts answer recurring questions in short and easy-to-understand texts and videos. At the same time, the articles dispel myths and prejudices about feed production. The German Pet Food Association (DVT) is behind the new online service. (DVT), which compiles expert knowledge from the entire industry for the articles.

Further information

- To the DVT website FutterFakten